TWELFTH YEAR.

EARLINGTON, HOPKINS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1901

NO. 13

EARLINGTON FIRE

Burns Two Old Frame Business Houses on Main Street Next to Mrs. Victory's Hotel.

HARDIN LAFFOON LOSES $350 CASH.

Loss Slight and No Insurance Except on Borders and Murphy's Restaurant.

EXCELLENT WORK OF FIRE LADDIES.

Friday morning about three o'clock the cry of fire was heard on Main street near the railroad, followed by the unfailing locomotive whistle alarm which always tells the exciting news of an incipient conflagration to the ready hearts and willing hands of Earlington's people, always ready to answer a distress call.

Almost simultaneously with the sounding of the alarm, the hose wagons, ladders, barriers, etc., of the volunteer fire department were gotten out and two two-inch streams were gotten from the fire plug at the corner of Main and Railroad streets. One to the front and one to the rear of the burning buildings. It looked at first as if the St. Bernard butcher shop, a frame building standing within four feet of the adjoining burning frame building, would also go. But the fire laddies said it didn't have to and it was not even scorched.

The fire originated in the old house next to Mrs. Victory's hotel, owned by Mrs. P. B. Davis and occupied by Borders & Murphy as a restaurant. Wilson Borders, speaking of it said he had been up the night before and had worked Friday and that he lay down on the counter, face downward, and fell asleep. When he awoke the room was ablaze and in getting out his chair was singed and one hand slightly scorched. There was some fire in the stove and the probable cause was a defective flue.

The wind was in the most favorable direction or the light would have been much harder and the losses perhaps much greater. Though even with unfavorable wind it is possible the fire might have been stopped between the butcher shop and the B. & M. office.

Mrs. E. R. McEuen's large brick residence, occupied by Mrs. Victory's hotel, was scorched and it is estimated that the paint can be renewed at from $50 to $75.

Mrs. P. B. Davis owned the house in which the fire started and Mrs. McKee the other house that burned. Both were old, one-story houses and neither was insured.

Borders & Murphy carried $300 insurance on their stock of goods and restaurant outfit.

Laffoon & Sisk had no insurance on household goods and stock of notions and pictures. Most of their stuff was burned.

M. H. Laffoon, of the above firm, over sixty years old, and a brother of Hon. Polk Laffoon, recently sold his farm and came to Earlington to go into business. He had bought lumber to build a new house and on Friday went to the bank and brought out $350 cash, in bills, with which to pay for his lumber. This money was secreted about the bed and dropped out on the floor and was turned to a crisp. The pocket-book was found next morning and sent to the Treasury Department at Washington in the hope that a portion of the money could be identified and redeemed.

The work of the Volunteer Fire Department was superb and once more proved the efficiency of Earlington's water system and the ability of the men who are always looked upon as leaders in such an emergency.

Invasion of Hopkins County.

(Communicated to Glenn's Graphic.)

Hopkins county contains about 350,000 acres. The coal crop from under these acres sells for one million dollars annually; that is, the county receives a royalty or rental of three dollars per acre each year for its crop of coal. The $1,333,710 tons of coal dug in the county in 1900 was sold mostly outside the State at the best possible price the market permitted. The working men who dug this coal received in wages, not less than $810,000 of this one million dollars. The lumber men and farmers received for the lumber used in the mines many thousands of dollars. The foundry men, wagon builders, steel rail mills, engine builders, boiler makers, tool makers, etc., of the entire county received many thousands of dollars of this one million, for it takes all these mechanical appliances, to successfully mine and prepare coal for the market.

At least 275 acres of coal lands were exhausted, many thousand dollars of taxes were paid, to keep the hundreds of mules and horses needed to produce this coal cost many thousands of dollars. When all these expenses are added to the wages paid the miners, only a meager profit is left the owner of the mines to pay him interest on his capital, and renew his exhausted acres, depreciated machinery and live stock, to repair his houses and shops and mines. No business in the United States pays so little profit as coal mining. In Hopkins county the miner gets full 81 per cent of the entire receipts from the coal sold, and the mine owner that gets 6 per cent on the capital invested, is a great manager and a fortunate man indeed.

Such are the business facts and conditions that embrace the coal industry of Hopkins county, a condition of justice to the working man, because he gets as wages all the business can pay, while the owners of the mines, the men women and children whose money makes the capital, without which no coal could be mined, and receive a reasonable profit on the money invested. For twenty-five years the best of harmony has prevailed between the wage earners at the mines and the mine owners. During all these years, this cordial relation between labor and capital has been regarded the marvel of industrial enterprises. During years of business troubles and panics, the capitalists stood between the wage earner and hard times. Wages were not reduced but the profit to the owners was cut off. And now what do we see? The county is full of hired agitators from other States and other counties, whose purpose it is to destroy the harmony now existing between labor and capital in Hopkins county; whose purpose it is to close up the mines of the county, that an unholy compact, entered into by operators and miners of other counties, can be enforced in this county. These operators have offered the union miners employed by them five cents per ton premium if they will close up the mines of Hopkins county, and organize the free miners of this county into the United Mine Workers of America. And what do the United Mine Workers propose to do? Nothing else than to take possession of the coal mines of the county and manage the coal business themselves. They propose to say who shall work and who shall not work. They propose to say when and how long the mines shall run, they propose to say what mine boss shall be employed. They propose to say how much slate and sulphur shall be picked out of the coal when loaded for the market. They propose to say that the first charge on a wage earner is the dues to the United Mine Workers Lodge, before food or medicine, or clothing or doctor is considered. They propose that the mines shall be managed by a bank committee of three men whose word is law. They propose that the owners of the mines, the men women and children whose money is invested therein, shall pay all the bills and take all the risks. They propose that the wages paid shall have no reference to the coal trade, or to the markets, but shall be arbitrarily fixed by an organization that has not one cent invested in the coal business or anything else, and that is in no way responsible in law.

Under the present method of doing the coal business in Hopkins county, a great trade has been built up. The mines of the county are known as prompt shippers of coal. Contracts are always filled in time, and because of those things, large additions to the coal trade have been made.

All the markets of the world are now open to Hopkins county coal.

Under the management of the United Mine Workers, who could not be allowed to be shipped to Evansville, because the other Mine Workers there claim that market for the home mines. Coal could not be shipped to other points in Indiana or Illinois, because other "brothers" claim the markets there. Coal could not be shipped to Henderson, Ky., for the same reason. For the same reason coal could not be shipped to Alabama or parts of Tennessee.

Then the weekly or monthly strikes would disgust the customers in numerous other markets, and the coal trade of Hopkins county would grow less instead of greater. Note the means by which the organization of the United Mine Workers proposes to capture the mines. The members of the order in Kentucky and Indiana, also in other States, are assessed, and many thousands of dollars raised and sent to this county to be used as the hired men of the order choose. Men are hired with money or drink to work for the order and entrap ignorant men into it. These men claim that bar miners should get more wages; when the fact is, he is now getting better wages than is the union man. The fact that the best price obtainable has been paid for the coal sold, that the miner now gets 81 cents out of every dollar received, don't count with the paid agitator, who is hired to lie; to deceive; to destroy the good feeling that has existed for twenty-five years between the miner who receives the wages and the mine owner who pays it. This hired walking delegate uses all his eloquence on the contented workman, who has never before even dreamed that he was oppressed or down-trodden, to have him believe he has lost his liberty and that his wages should be fixed by somebody in Indianapolis or Russia, it may be, who knows nothing of the conditions that surround Hopkins county.

The slick tongue of the agitator, the crafty lies, eternally uttered, sometimes deceives the honest and hard-working man, who quits his employer, and becomes a member of the Union. He is told if he don't join the Union, he will never be able to get work in the mines after the United Mine Workers get possession of the property.

He is told if he don't quit work as a free man he will presently be compelled to quit work by force—the force of these so-called "brothers." He is told by these walking saloons and arsenals (for the organizer always carries his bottle as well as his gun) that he will be blown up by dynamite, or shot by Winchester, if he don't quit work. Those are the peace-fel (?) persuasive methods used to get 2,000 miners in Hopkins to join an order whose leaders are frequently rotten with drunkenness and filth, many of them moral lepers.

But few of the miners of the county have been imposed upon by these agitators. A lot of n'er do wells have listened and joined the order on promises of free groceries and no work. It matters not to such folks if the food is taken from the mouths of women and children of other counties and other States. A few good and honest men have joined the order and quit the regular work they were getting in the mines.

A case in point: In January, 1900, a man with a wife and many children came to a neighboring town wanting work. The family was hungry and almost naked. The man had worked on a railroad section for less than one dollar per day, had probably never earned one dollar per day. He got work in the mines and in February earned $77. During the thirteen months ending February 28th, 1901, he earned by loading coal, with his boy's help, $854.66, or four times the amount of money he ever earned before in the same length of time. This man was as happy as such a man could be, and well satisfied with his place. Not so with the organizer of the United Mine Workers. With smooth lies that the evil one envied, this man was taught to believe that he was not a free man; that he was not getting enough wages; that he was imposed on; and that he should join the U. M. W. and get his "rights"; and this father and husband who earned in January $90.02 quit his work and joined the Union, and again will be the tramp he was thirteen months ago. Does the reader wonder that wives and mothers do not love such a union? To them it means hunger and nakedness, while the hired organizer revels in the suffering he has made. But with all his seductive lies the organizer has made but little headway in organizing the 2,000 Hopkins county miners. When a man has joined the order and quit his work, another has been waiting to take his place, and there are still two thousand honest and free men at work in the mines of the county.

Do the people of Hopkins want to turn over its greatest industry to this organization?

Prospecting in China.

Mr. Auguste Matheo, of Mines and Minerals, Scranton, Pa., for April, in an interesting article on Prospecting in China, says:

Our party consisting of myself and two assistants, Messrs. Ireland and Field, left Denver in February, 1900, to examine some mining concessions in Northern China for a New York syndicate.

We sailed from Vancouver, on the Steamship Empress of China to Shanghai, thence on a small steamer up the Yellow Sea to Taku; from Taku we went by rail through Tien-Tsin to Peking.

Our trip from Denver to Peking occupied just about a month's time and brought us here in the latter part of March.

Within a few weeks of our arrival at Shanghai the ice in the Yellow Sea had broken and navigation had opened for the season from Shanghai north, several steamers having preceded us to Taku.

It is optional with the visitor to China whether or not he shall see China before he reaches Peking, but there his option ends.

We were delayed in Peking two weeks through Chinese red tape in the preparation of our passports, which by the way we were never required to show. While there making our preparations too, for the trip north, vague rumors came several times from Tien-Tsin of a contemplated Boxer uprising, but we were of the majority of unbelievers in the consummation of that movement and calmly went on with our preparation. We were wisely advised by our minister, Mr. Conger not to take an escort of Chinese soldiers, who surely would have been in the way and might have been dangerous, so we only added to our party an interpreter, Mr. Edward Lowry, whose wife's diary of the siege of Peking appeared in the November number of McClure's Magazine, and some Chinese servants.

There were many things to carry on our trip besides our surveying and chemical apparatus, for Chinese food is undesirable, except when boiled with coffee and tea. The sewage of a populous country finds its way to the rivers and streams and the dead are buried above ground, to misquote Edwin Arnold "the dead are many and the living are not few." So the water from the streams is impure and the water from the shallow wells, which are in frequent use in the cities and surrounding country is worse. During our stay at the hotels of Shanghai, Tien-Tsin and Peking we only saw plain water drunk at table once and that was a Japanese at breakfast in Tien-Tsin. The usual beverages are mineral water, ales and wines. We were fortunately able to provide ourselves with American canned goods, bacons, hams and Apollinaris water in Peking.

The Chinese cart is a combination of Roman chariot and emigrant wagon, the lower part chariot, the upper part emigrant wagon.

It required twelve of these carts to carry our stuff. Each cart was provided with two animals driven tandem without other reins than a single cord attached to the foremost beast, which cord by the way was seldom used as the guiding was done almost entirely by speech, to which the animals responded perfectly.

On one of the Indian reservations in New York state is a toy factory which employs several hundred Indians all the year round. The toys manufactured here are being shipped all over the world.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT

To Damage Property and Intimidate Non-Union Miners.

Forty Feet of Fuse Attached.

Keq of Powder Exploded on Porch of Colored Miners at Barnsley.

Tuesday night a dangerously attempt was made to intimidate non-union miners and damage property, this time at Barnsley. The Barnsley mine is operated by the St. Bernard Coal Co., who employs non-union men exclusively, and the work is supposed to have been done by members of the United Mine Workers organization. A number of former Barnsley miners, members of this organization, are still at Barnsley, living in ignorance upon the charity of the organization, and it is claimed that aspersions points strongly to some of these as the perpetrators of this deed.

The explosion occurred about 11 o'clock. Esquire Gato, of Dawson, democratic candidate for sheriff, spent the night in Barnsley. Just after the explosion he heard the clock strike eleven. The report was a loud one and awakened people a considerable number.

The keg of powder, with forty feet of fuse attached, was put upon the porch of the house occupied by a colored miner, John Duncan. The long fuse of course gave the perpetrators of the deed time to escape. It is not known how much powder the metal keg contained but the explosion set the house on fire and blackened, scorched and blistered the walls, ceiling and floor of the porch. Being only confined by the keg, a regular metal powder can, much of the force of the explosion was lost.

The colored miner who occupies the house went to work as usual Wednesday morning. He is not one of the seamy sort. A woman who knows him says it is fortunate for the powder burners that he did not get out with his shotgun before they put the bill of particulars on him.

Fragments of the keg and the fuse are in the hands of the authorities and an effort will be made to identify the suspicious entertained.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS.

Supervisor Edmondson has received orders to commence work on the new tracks at Henderson so the work on new approach can begin at early date.

Conductor Joe Lurch contemplates erecting a new residence at Howell in the near future.

The officials are said to have under consideration a new time card for the Henderson and St. Louis divisions.

Supt. Logsdun made a trip over this division last week looking after the interests of his company. For several months he has been kept close at home by the fatal illness of his wife.

Why don't some one give us a reason for the unprecedented rise in L. & N. stock on the market? There is always a cause and what is it in this case.

A long sliding will soon be put in about half way between Sebree and Slaughterville.

It is announced that the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railroad Co. has decided to test the use of oil as fuel on a number of its locomotives on the Texas lines, and has ordered six to be equipped with oil tanks and apparatus for supplying it to the furnaces. The fuel will be secured from the Texas wells. The Southern Pacific Company has been utilizing oil for fuel on its California division for a number of years.

The outfit to be made by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Co. in Southwestern extensions and improvements is estimated at $4,000,000. It includes the new mileage under construction in Texas and New Mexico as well as Indian and Oklahoma Territories, terminal facilities at Kansas City and Topeka, as well as several repair shops at different points.

"A LIE NAILED."

Insulting article in Louisville Paper Directed at Madisonville Gentlemen.

MADISONVILLE, April 18, 1901. I note in a certain insignificant sheet named the Journal of Labor published in Louisville, a gross insult against some of our best citizens. In March there was printed in the Evening Post of Louisville a statement of ministration signed by some of the very best and most prominent citizens, as follows: Mayor Rose, A. Braun, H. H. Holman, W. C. Morton, J. F. Gordon, J. J. Glenn, and O. W. Waddill. The Journal of Labor printed a statement concerning this writing in the Post, and headed the article "A lie nailed!" and went on to say that there was no word of truth in the statement, thereby insinuating very strongly that the above named gentlemen had lied concerning the mining situation of this county. This insulting article really ought to be entirely ignored, as any one who knows the above gentlemen will not doubt their word, and even if they did, they could look about them and see for themselves the trainloads of coal being shipped from the mines and also the hundreds of men that come and go from work. It is preposterous for such a sheet to try to convince the citizens of the state that what they say is true, and to convince the people that the above named gentlemen of Madisonville are liars. If any one should doubt the state of affairs in this county, all we ask is for them to come and see. Though there are certain people like the editor of the Journal of Labor, who seeing will not believe. We don't blame them for being so.

Yours very truly,
X. Y. Z.

WATSON-CARDWELL.

Wealthy Hopkins County Widow Weds a Methodist Preacher.

Mrs. Emma Cardwell, widow of the late Wm. Cardwell, in his life the wealthiest farmer of Hopkins county, was married yesterday to Rev. J. T. Watson at the residence of W. A. Tombs in this city. Mr. Watson is a local preacher and evangelist of the M. E. Church and lives at Madisonville. The ceremony

It is announced that the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co. has purchased about forty acres of land at Covington and Millville for the purpose of constructing additional freight yards.

We are told that Operator Chas. Orr of Henderson, will soon come here to take place of the present night operator, who takes a position out on the line at some other point.

The first excursion train of the year will be run next Sunday, for the benefit of those who want to attend the balloon race and high jumping entertainment to be given at Henderson on that date.

A change of about two hours in the arriving time of the two fast trains will, we are informed, take place when the new time card goes into effect next Sunday, No. 92 being that much earlier, and No. 88, the same length of time later.

Several of the Henderson division engineers will, we hear, soon go to the Nashville and Decatur divisions where additional men are now needed.

The officials of the St. Bernard Coal Co. in receipt daily of applications for reinstatement from sick and sorrowful would-be-repentant U. M. W.'s, who left good work and wages on the solicitation of such people as Anstine, Cody, Vannoy and kindred spirits. As the mines are filled up with good and honest men who appreciate their jobs, there seems to be no room for the too-late repentant U. M. W.'s and they will have to seek other homes and other work. Every St. Bernard employee who joins the U. M. W. knows he will lose his place and that there are always two men ready to take his place when he quits.

Miss Maud Burnett is visiting relatives in Madisonville.

Nerve Food

If you have neuralgia, Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will feed the nerve that is crying for food—it is hungry—and set your whole body going again in a way to satisfy nerve and brain from your usual food.

That is cure. If you are nervous and irritable, you may only need more fat to roushion your nerves—and you are probably thin—and Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will give you the fat, to begin with.

Cure, so far as it goes. Full cure is getting the fat you need from usual food, and Scott's Emulsion will help you to that.

You have not tried it, and for the same reason. Scott's Emulsion is the only food that will cure you.

DOWN IN THE MINES.

We have been convinced all along that the encouragement given the U. M. W. at Madisonville by certain business men, was what made them show so bold a front at that point. There they were in defiance of law allowed to display openly upon their persons deadly weapons meeting with not even as much as a challenge as to their right to do so, and having thus been encouraged, they naturally became bolder until we are told they have arrived at the point that business men are required to place themselves on record as favoring the organization or else be boycotted. An illustration of this fact was given here last week.

One Stanton who is under bond for his appearance at next term of circuit court to answer to a charge, called upon one of the business men and asked him to do a job of work for him. The request was not complied with, but when the work was about completed, the agitator had the gall to ask the workman whether or not he favored the Union, and when told he did not, the latter at once refused to fulfill the part of the contract to take the article and pay for it, and was rightfully ordered from building without delay. Honor is a secondary matter with them it would seem, and this action goes to show they would not force recognition of the order here as they have done elsewhere regardless of the choice of the citizen.

When a man knows full well that his employer is opposed to working men who belong to the Union, and that man occupies a lucrative position with the company, and at the same time belongs to the order, does he show the proper respect for the company, under whose care he has thrived for years, to conceal the fact from it?

Rumor says that at one of the mines over in an adjoining county, the miners have become tired of paying a per cent of their wages towards the keeping up of the men in this county, who have listened to the call of Woods and company and are hanging around the mines, and the nation party to come around, have therefore refused to pay farther towards the last cause.

Reports at hand indicate that the agitators are now troubled with that "tired feeling" and are contemplating withdrawing from the field. They are thinking the fact that they are no chance for success, with the operators solidly arrayed against them and two thousand or more miners who would rather work than be fed by charity, stand in their way. So they are thinking seriously how they can back down and out with the least damage to their honor. If they have any.

Last Saturday was houndst day here, with the agitators, and it was indeed a sad sight to see the once happy miners now with a desperate look, approach the chief commissary and ask for his weekly rations. Men who were in the habit of living off the fat of the land, now walk up and take a few pounds of beans and fat and a package of coffee. A less than half their former rations was given them, when they had been promised full pay additions if they would only "fine." One amusing thing occurred, and that was, some farmers who had never done a day's work in the mine, came in and drew their mine along with the former delinquent agitators.

The traveling salesman as a general thing is a keen observer of passing events and men. They make a study of human nature as this business requires them to do and while they don't claim to be at the top of the ladder as Christians or moralists, they do abhor a rowdy on a train. One day lately one of these knights of the valise was enroute home over the Henderson division, when the train was boarded by several members of the U. M. W. who had been huddled quite freely of mine killer, such as is produced as Henderson distilleries and at once they gave vent to their feelings by the use of obscene and vulgar expressions, which was disgraceful in the extreme. This conduct continued from Henderson to Sebree, where they stopped over to enlighten the people there as to their duties. Think of this class of citizens ever being allowed to speak in public—men, who by their talk showed themselves to be degraded and unworthy of notice, unless by the officers of law who should at once call them to account to answer the charge of drunk and disorderly conduct. So the disgusted were these traveling men with these representatives of the U. M. W. they were heard to say that while they had heretofore sided with the Union men, they were now bitterly opposed to such an organization.

Foreman J. B. Head reports twenty-one cars of coal loaded at Arnold one day last week. The average daily production now being about twenty cars. A wonderful record for a mine only reopened a short time ago.

Over in Indiana the miners union (ever in the Union) and to hear them talk one would think that all that is necessary to secure steady work at high prices, is for the Union to take charge of a place. Yet Secretary Kennedy writing from Terre Haute takes rather a gloomy view of the situation, and if he is right in his statement, the miners of Hopkins County have reason to feel proud of the fact, that the mines here are not unionized and never will be.

At "Bon Air", Tenn., the miners Union expelled their secretary and treasurer, because he got drunk and got up and squandered their money. Here in Hopkins County it is a daily occurrence to see U. M. W. members frequenting saloons and squandering the hard earned money of some miner, and we yet have the first one in here of being even temporarily suspended.

After entering into a binding agreement with the operators as to where they should lay powder, the miners of Indiana have repudiated the contract and now threaten a strike over there unless they have their way.

Unless the U. M. W. are convinced a privileged class, steps should at once be taken to make them suffer for holding up a train at Central City and taking therefrom innocent men who were on their way to perform honest labor.

Several new coal mines are now said to have been opened in Laurel and Whitley counties, Kentucky. It was up in that region where Manager Ben W. Robinson knocked the U. M. W. out, and he is now manager of a mine that works out a fine profit.

Superintendent Crumfield, of the St. Charles mine, continues to hold his own, and all the Union miners can do to stand around on the outside and see the man who wants to work thrive and do well. A visitor from the civilized world, who is among those who had quit work, there were but few good men, the most of them were naturally opposed to labor.

Just think of it, after months of hard work by the poverty stricken, only two colored men have been found who would give up a job of work in order to secure a position under Wood & Co., of the soap house brigade.

Last Monday was to have been the day that the mines of this county would practically shut down but we noticed on that day an unusually large amount of coal produced. The production was so large at Beluecke and Monroeh mines that day that an extra trip was made by the coal train in order to move the coal. A threat to call out the boys works like a stimulant and an increased production follows immediately.

The Furnace Coal Co., of Middleborough, has purchased new electrical machinery and expects a new mine.

The Yellow Creek Coal Mining Co. has been organized by Joseph Bosworth, E. S. Holburn, R. E. Ronenham and others, for the development of coal mines in Bennett's Fork.

J. M. Elliott, Jr., recently reported as having purchased coal lands and will have about 20,000 acres when all purchases are complete. The matter of development has not as yet been determined.

W. G. Campbell, of Denver, Col., has closed deal for the purchase of 262,000 acres of timber and mineral lands in Eastern Kentucky and will develop same.

The United States Geological Survey has just published an interesting and thorough report by Mr. Edward W. Parker on the manufacture of coke in the United States in 1899. The phenomenal activity in the iron trade during that year stimulated the production of coke and resulted in an output of 19,688,560 short tons, an increase of 3,621,590 tons over the product of 1898. All of the more important coke-producing States shared in the increased production. The advances in the South in ten years may be noted in the following table of production in short tons by States:

State	1889	1899
Alabama	1,680,610	1,787,800
Arkansas	94,797	56,047

"I am so nervous, there is not a well in my whole body. I am so weak at my stomach, and have indigestion, nervousness, and palpitation of the heart, and I am losing flesh. This headache and backache nearly kills me, and yesterday I nearly had hysterics; there is a weight in the lower part of my body, leaving down all the time, and pains in my groin and thighs; I cannot sleep, walk, or sit, and I believe I am diseased all over; no one ever suffered as I do."

This is a description of thousands of cases which come to Mrs. Pinkham's attention daily. An inflamed and ulcerated condition of the neck of the womb can produce all of these symptoms.

No other medicine has such a record for absolute cure, and no other medicine is "just as good." Women who are sick should insist upon getting Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when they ask for it at a store. Anyway, write a letter to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and tell her all your troubles. Her advice is free.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

COUNTY CLERK.

GILLESPIE.—We are authorized to announce that H. H. Gillespie, of Italy, Kentucky, is a candidate for County Clerk, subject to the action of the voters of Hopkins County at the November election.

COUNTY JUDGE.

ZIMMER.—We are authorized to announce that F. V. Zimmer, of Madisonville, a candidate for County Judge, subject to the action of the voters of Hopkins County at the November election.

The ladies of the Madisonville Woman's Christian Temperance Union were editors and publishers of the last edition of Glen's Graphic. Of course they acquitted themselves with credit. The paper was full of good things from a temperance standpoint and a handsome issue.

Mr. F. V. Zimmer announces today his candidacy for the Republican nomination for County Judge and sets forth his reasons in a card published in this issue. We can say for Mr. Zimmer that he is an earnest worker and a capable man. So far as his work for the Republican party is concerned he has been active and effective ever since he came into the county. He is a graduate of the law department of the Michigan University and of the Academic department of Central College. He is, moreover, a young man of studious habits, good morals and sterling character.

Is The Cigarette Law Violated?

Not everybody, perhaps, knows that there is an ordinance in effect in the City of Earlington, based on the statutes of the State of Kentucky, which makes it a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, to sell or give cigarettes or cigarette material to any person under eighteen years of age, or to in any way induce a child to smoke. Such is the case, however, and if the law is being violated here the parents or friends of boys who are smoking these little "coffin nails" should not find it very difficult to discover who furnishes the boys the smoking material and have the remedy provided by the law applied.

The ordinance is as follows: Sec. 40, Ordinance and By-laws, City of Earlington, Ky.

It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or furnish to any person under the age of eighteen years, any cigarette or cigarette material, or to give, sell or barter the same to any person whomsoever, with the knowledge that the same is to be given or sold or bartered to any such child, or to persuade, advise, counsel or compel any child of said age to smoke the same. Any person who violates the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction therefor, shall be fined not less than five, nor more than twenty-five dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not more than thirty days, or both so fined and imprisoned.

It is a matter of pleasure and congratulation to all friends of Earlington boys that some of these many young Americans have entered into league and covenant with each other and with many other upright and moral young men in Kentucky, to eschew the cigarette habit not to contract the tobacco habit.

The law is a wise one and should be and can be enforced for the protection of the boys.

Collars and Cancer.

From the Union Signal.
The latest vices to be traced to woman's unhygienic dress, according to medical authority, is the cancer. This dreadful disease has been traced to the high collars now affected. There is death in the fatal broad band of ribbon drawn tightly around the high collar on the woman's neck, and doctors have scolded warning.

Recently a young sales woman employed in a department store in Philadelphia was taken to a hospital, where her disease was diagnosed as cancer of the throat. Eminent specialists who examined the sufferer agreed that the disease had its origin in a "choke" collar, and expressed the opinion that if the custom of wearing this style of neckwear continues many similar cases will result.

A well known resident physician in a downtown hospital said: "There is not a particle of doubt that these high collars or 'choke' as they are called, now being worn by many young women, are decidedly injurious. They make the wearers extremely susceptible to colds, for they interfere with the proper action of the throat muscles. Then, too, the collars act as mufflers and keep the air from the neck, making it unusually tender and vulnerable to drafts. The drawing tight of the collar around the neck not only causes chafing, but produces cancer of a dangerous and usually fatal character."

"I think that this matter should be brought before women, so that all due care may be exercised, and this habit or fashion of high collars and bands that draw the neck in mummy-like folds may be discontinued."

"Men wear their collars loose and do not use tight neckbands, but now that women have usurped some of the masculine fashions, they push them to extremes. Within my six months' incumbency at this hospital I have treated no less than four cases of cancer of the throat—and every case was due to the high collars worn by women."

You Can't Lose Flesh or Appetite.

Farmer City, Ill., Dec. 20, 1900. Peppin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill. Gentlemen:—My seven-month-old baby was troubled a great deal with his stomach and bowels. I had tried numerous remedies with no good results, until the baby lost much flesh and was in very poor health. A friend recommended Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I procured a bottle of it and gave the baby according to directions, after which there was a decided improvement in his condition. He has been giving him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for about a month with very satisfactory results, his stomach and bowels being in a good healthy condition and his former weight regained.

Very truly yours,
ALICE JACKSON.

Stockholder's Meeting.

On Wednesday, April 17, 1901, the Stockholders of the St. Bernard Company will hold their annual meeting in the general offices of the Company at Earlington, Ky.
This March 12, 1901.
GEO. C. ATKINSON, Secy.

Nearly all the men and women in Japan smoke tobacco. The ladies have pipes with longer stems than the men, and if one of them wishes to show a gentleman a mark of favor she lights her pipe, takes a whiff, hands it to him and lets him smoke.

A FLOATING EXHIBIT

NOVEL PLAN TO BOOM OUR GOODS ABROAD.

Proposal to Load Vessels With one Freeder and send them around the World—Advantages of the Scheme Set Forth by Its Proposer.

From almost every civilized foreign country comes the cry that the sale of American products is hurting that of the native articles. Why send iron coils to Newcast, mill combinations to Cores, locomotives to India and South Africa and iron and steel products to England, Japan, the harbor of this trade, France and Germany are thinking of erecting tariff walls against us, but everywhere our products are gaining ground by their excellence and comparative cheapness.

But even though our trade is going forward by leaps and bounds our manufacturers and exporters cannot afford to overlook any plan to increase it. Therefore the novel, practicable and very promising project of Mr. Oscar P. Austin, chief of the bureau of consulates of the United States, is well worth consideration.

Briefly described Mr. Austin contemplates the sending abroad of a floating exhibition of American goods. He says, "A floating exhibition, carrying samples of our merchandise around the world and putting our merchandise in touch with those of all nations, seems to me a fitting American enterprise for the beginning of the new century."

Mr. Austin proposes the loading of steamers with samples of the various classes of our products and sending them on a trip around the world. They would stop at the principal ports of all the maritime countries according to a prearranged schedule and time given to the mechanics of foreign trade an excellent opportunity of seeing before their very eyes the advantages of trading with us.

There seems scarcely any doubt that the movement of Mr. Austin's plan would greatly increase our trade. He points out that the imports of Asia, Australia, Africa and the American countries south of the United States amount to $2,000,000,000 every year.

Nearly all these importations are of the very classes of goods which we want to sell, foodstuffs, textiles, minerals, machinery and manufactures of all kinds, and our salesmen are grand dispatches in the best way of our commerce. This, amounting to only one per cent of our exports, is a total. The percentage could easily be increased were the merchants of these countries made cognate of our goods. As outlined by Mr. Austin, the proposed floating exhibition could be loaded with exhibits of foodstuffs, another with textiles, another with machinery, or in fact, with anything with household requirements and another with "Vanook's Compound." Send these from port to port and from country to country, and the highly advantageous to our commercial relations with all of the countries visited in all parts of the globe.

The only possible objection to Mr. Austin's plan is the expense attached, and that he argues with much reason, would be more than repaid by the benefits to be derived from the floating exhibition. The government has on hand a considerable number of safe and seaworthy merchant vessels purchased for transport during the war with Spain, and these could be applied to the more general purpose. The expense of the floating exhibition could not be nearly so great as that of a land expedition and the benefits to be derived greater.

Nothing definite in regard to the matter has yet been done by Mr. Austin, but the making of the suggestion and its reference to a committee composed of the officers of the nation at board of trade, the United States Export Association, the Manufacturers' National Association and the Philadelphia Commercial Museum.

The proposition has, however, attracted a great deal of favorable attention among manufacturers and exporters, and it seems probable that it will be organized along the lines suggested.

Mr. Austin has been chief of the bureau of consulates in the treasury department for some time and is an old newspaper man. In a recent paper published in The National Geographic Magazine of Washington he says, "Why not an around the world American exposition to inaugurate the twentieth century?" And all interested in the extension of American commerce and influence are inclined to echo "Why not?"

INDICTMENT THROWN OUT

Ellis M. Headley Accused of Bribery Will Baker Released by Circuit Judge.

SAYS INDICTMENT IS GROUNDSLESS.

Paducah, Ky., April 8.—Ellis M. Headley, son of Capt. Jno. W. Headley, of Louisville, who was accused of bribery of Will Baker of this place, was dismissed by Acting Circuit Judge Berry, who ordered the indictment thrown out, saying it was groundsless. The defendant, excepted to the ruling, and took an appeal. However, it is believed that no further steps will be taken against Headley.

The dismissal of the indictment by the court, and the fact that he held the indictment to be groundsless, proved severe shocks to a certain element of politicians at Paducah, and is causing much comment.

BURGLARY AT NEBO.

H. R. Cox's Store Robbed and the Thief is Apprehended.

PERSONAL AND BUSINESS NOTES.

Mr. James Thomas, deputy sheriff, visited our place last Thursday. He was the bearer of an urgent invitation for one of our colored citizens to make his home in Madisonville for a time. So anxious was he that he was not satisfied with a promise to come, but insisted on the store-keeper returning with him, which he did.

Last Sunday morning it was discovered that the store of Mr. H. R. Cox had been broken open the night before and a quantity of goods stolen from it. Exactly how much it is impossible to say, as Mr. Cox carries a very large stock and Saturday having been a busy day, the goods were more scattered than usual. A colored man was suspected, a search was made and a part of the stolen goods found in his possession. He was arrested and tried before Judge Rutherford, who held him to answer before the grand jury.

Mr. Peter Berry, candidate for county judge, was with us last week mixing with the voters of Nebo. Pete is a jolly good fellow and everybody likes him. We are of the opinion that he will get a good vote at this place.

Jack Nisbet, candidate for sheriff, spent a part of the day in Nebo last week. Jack is a pleasant, agreeable gentleman and he has lots of friends.

Rev. J. F. Story filled his regular appointment at the Christian church Saturday and Sunday.

Will Coyle has bought the saw mill of Roland & Noel. We understand that Mr. Coyle intends using the engine to draw coal from his mine. He has one of the finest veins of coal in the county, and his business sales require some faster way to get it out.

Our enterprising friend, Mr. Henschel Porter, sent to Union county last week and bought a fine calf, for which he paid sixty dollars.

In mining dogs that are native of Nebo, we omitted the many dogs, which from the whine we hear seems to be a native of Earlington.

Miss Grace Hill, of Madisonville, visited in Nebo.

A great many of our farmers are planting corn.

Will S. Zittel was in Nebo Saturday.

J. A. Hill, of Providence, is spending the week in Nebo.

Dr. Lamb and wife are visiting in Union county.

LOST ALL ITS TEETH.

Big Circular Saw Hits a 'Dog' and Shoots its Bites Through the Roof.

At George Robinson's saw mill on Saturday last a big hundred dollar circular saw was torn toothless and split up the back in a manner that would make your teeth chatter. Fortunately no one was in the line of the canning of dislocated teeth and no personal injury was inflicted. A lever which controls a patent dog was released in some purely accidental manner as the carriage was traveling and the saw was ripping through a stack of boarding in the process of edging up. It was the lower dog and by the falling of the lever the steel dog shot out under the boards and directly in front of the saw. The engine had on a hundred pounds of steam. When the saw struck the dog the carriage stopped and the saw was driven against the steel with increased force. Every tooth was torn from the saw and they flew upward tearing holes through the roof. An ugly split was also made in the big steel disc and it was utterly ruined. Mr. Robinson's first question was, "Is anybody hurt?" Answered in the affirmative, his feelings were all of gratitude and he did not murmur at the loss of the saw. He looks upon the accident as entirely unavoidable.

Just a Word.

There is becoming modesty and external fitness even in the blowing of one's own horn when the facts are cited. It is no vanity that prompts us to say "this is the place." It is pride: justifiable gratification at having a store and stock in place in keeping with the demands and requirements of our patrons as is possible. We strive to have what you want, we try to have what you ask for as well as a great many things that you cannot get in any other store. That is why we ask you to come to our store. Come to us every day and every evening, and we will have what you want. We will have what you want, we will have what you want, we will have what you want.
